UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT TACOMA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
Plaintiff,

NO. CR21-5184 BHS

INDICTMENT

v.

SEAN COITEUX,
TRACY COITEUX,
NICK AKERILL,
RACING PERFORMANCE
MAINTENANCE NORTHWEST, LLC, and
RPM MOTORS AND SALES, LLC,

Defendants.

The Grand Jury charges that:

(Conspiracy to Violate the Clean Air Act)

A. Overview

1. The defendants in this matter participated in a conspiracy to deliberately remove pollution control devices from diesel trucks, causing the trucks to pollute the air at rates far in excess of federal limits. To allow the vehicles to function while polluting at these unlawful levels, defendants tampered with federally-mandated emissions

1 monitoring devices on those trucks in violation of the criminal provisions of the Clean
2 Air Act. Defendants performed these unlawful modifications on hundreds of diesel
3 trucks over at least a three-year period, and collected hundreds of thousands of dollars in 4 fees for doing so.

5 2. Defendants' unlawful conduct centered around RACING
6 PERFORMANCE MAINTENANCE NORTHWEST, LLC (RPM NORTHWEST), a
7 Ridgefield, Washington limited liability company and automotive shop. RPM
8 NORTHWEST's business included modifying, repairing, and maintaining diesel trucks.
9 RPM NORTHWEST marketed itself as "the Northwest's leader in diesel performance,
10 maintenance, speed, and standard of automotive passion and precision." RPM MOTORS
11 & SALES, LLC (RPM MOTORS) is a related limited liability company based in 12 Woodland, Washington that specializes in the sales of motor vehicles, including diesel 13 trucks.

14 3. Defendants SEAN COITEUX and TRACY COITEUX are owners and 15 operators of RPM NORTHWEST and RPM MOTORS. Defendant NICK AKERILL is 16 the General Manager and Service Manager for RPM NORTHWEST. SEAN COITEUX,
17 TRACY COITEUX, and NICK AKERILL took the actions described in this Indictment
18 within the scope of their agency for RPM NORTHWEST and RPM MOTORS, and with 19 the intent to benefit those corporations.

20 B. Regulation of Emissions Systems

21 4. The Clean Air Act protects the nation's air quality by, among other things,
22 reducing vehicle emissions that pollute the air with toxins such as nitrogen oxides,
23 particulate matter, hydrocarbons, and carbon monoxide. These pollutants have been 24 shown to cause cancer, as well as pulmonary, neurological, cardiovascular, and immune
25 system damage. Diesel exhaust is one of the largest sources of particulate matter and 26 other pollutants.

1 5. The Clean Air Act authorizes the United States Environmental Protection
2 Agency (EPA) to issue regulations limiting the amount of pollutants that motor vehicles,
3 including diesel trucks, can emit. To meet these standards, diesel engine manufacturers 4 have developed a variety of emissions control devices, including devices known as 5 selective catalytic reduction systems (SCRs), diesel particulate filters (DPFs), and 6 exhaust gas recirculation systems (EGRs). Together, these hardware emissions control 7 devices, along with others, make up a diesel vehicle's emissions control system and are 8 critical to ensuring that the vehicle complies with the Clean Air Act's emissions
9 standards.

10 6. EPA regulations also require vehicle manufacturers to install on their 11 vehicles monitoring devices known as on-board diagnostic systems (OBDs).
12 42 U.S.C. § 7521(m)(1); 40 C.F.R. 86.1806-05. An OBD contains sensors that monitor
13 the vehicle's emissions levels. The OBD alerts the driver if the truck's emissions exceed 14 legal limits. If the alert is not addressed, the OBD either forces the vehicle's engine to 15 shut down, or places the vehicle in a state known as "limp mode," which limits the 16 maximum speed of the vehicle to as low as five miles per hour.

17 C. Emissions System "Deletes" and "Tunes"

18 7. Persons seeking to evade the Clean Air Act's pollution controls have 19 developed methods of modifying or removing emissions control systems and rendering
20 the OBDs ineffective. These modifications are marketed to truck owners as improving 21 the horsepower, torque, and other characteristics of diesel engines.

22 8. One way to disable an emissions control system is to remove the portion of 23 the vehicle's exhaust system that contains the emissions control devices and replace it 24 with a section of exhaust tubing known as a "straight pipe" that does not contain 25 emissions control hardware. Another method is to remove the components of the 26 emissions control system (such as the SCR or DPF) by hollowing out the casing in the 27 vehicle's exhaust pipe and then reattaching the modified system. The act of removing a

1 vehicle's emissions control systems is often referred to as a "delete." EPA studies have 2 determined that a single deleted diesel truck can cause pollution equal to between 30 and 3 300 similar trucks with compliant emissions systems, depending on the model of the 4 truck.

5 9. If a truck is deleted, a functioning OBD will detect the increased emissions
6 and cause the vehicle to become inoperative or go into limp mode. Therefore, a
7 mechanic performing a delete must also disable the OBD. The act of rendering the OBD
8 ineffective is often referred to as a "tune" or a "flash." It is a felony to tamper with or 9 render inaccurate any monitoring device required by the CAA, including an OBD.

10 42 U.S.C. § 7413(c)(2)(C).

11 D. The Conspiracy

12 10. Beginning at a time unknown, but no later than January 2018, and 13 continuing until at least January 20, 2021, at Ridgefield, within the Western District of 14 Washington, and elsewhere, SEAN COITEUX, TRACY COITEUX, NICK AKERILL, 15 RACING PERFORMANCE MAINTENANCE NORTHWEST, LLC, RPM MOTORS &
16 SALES, LLC, and others known and unknown to the Grand Jury, agreed to modify and 17 delete the emissions control systems of diesel engines in a manner that would cause those 18 engines to emit pollution at levels exceeding EPA regulations, and further agreed to 19 falsify, tamper with, and render inaccurate the vehicles' on-board diagnostic (OBD)
20 emissions monitoring devices so that the modified vehicles could continue to function
21 after the deletes.

22 11. By entering into the foregoing agreement, SEAN COITEUX, TRACY
23 COITEUX, NICK AKERILL, RACING PERFORMANCE MAINTENANCE
24 NORTHWEST, LLC, and RPM MOTORS & SALES, LLC, together with others known
25 and unknown to the grand jury, did knowingly conspire, confederate and agree, together
26 and with each other, to knowingly falsify, tamper with, and render inaccurate, monitoring
27

1 devices and methods required to be maintained under the Clean Air Act in violation of 2 Title 42, United States Code, Section 7413(c)(2)(C).

3 12. The object of the conspiracy was to generate revenue for RPM
4 NORTHWEST by charging customers a fee to delete and tune their diesel trucks, and 5 to generate additional sales and revenue for RPM MOTORS by offering to delete and 6 tune the trucks of prospective RPM MOTORS customers if the customers purchased
7 trucks from RPM MOTORS.

8 E. Manner and Means

9 It was part of the conspiracy that:

10 13. SEAN COITEUX, TRACY COITEUX, NICK AKERILL, RPM
11 NORTHWEST, and others agreed with diesel truck owners (customers) that, in exchange
12 for a fee of between about $1,000 and about $2,000 per vehicle, RPM
13 NORTHWEST would remove emissions control systems from the customers' trucks and 14 render inaccurate the trucks' OBDs.

15 14. SEAN COITEUX, TRACY COITEUX, NICK AKERILL, RPM
16 NORTHWEST, and RPM MOTORS entered into agreements with customers purchasing 17 diesel trucks from RPM MOTORS under which the defendants agreed that, as a term of 18 the purchase, the RPM MOTORS customer would receive a credit toward a delete and 19 tune to be performed by RPM NORTHWEST following the closing of the sale.

20 15. SEAN COITEUX, TRACY COITEUX, NICK AKERILL, RPM
21 NORTHWEST and others caused RPM NORTHWEST employees to purchase straight
22 pipes, exhaust gas recirculation delete kits, block off plates, and other hardware intended 23 for emissions system modifications.

24 16. NICK AKERILL and others ordered tuning software files from suppliers,
25 which the suppliers then delivered to RPM NORTHWEST by email or other electronic 26 transmission.

1 17. SEAN COITEUX, TRACY COITEUX, NICK AKERILL, RPM
2 NORTHWEST, and others caused RPM NORTHWEST mechanics to perform deletes on 3 diesel trucks by removing their emissions control components and replacing the relevant 4 portion of the exhaust system with straight pipes or by hollowing out and replacing the 5 existing emissions control system.

6 18. SEAN COITEUX, TRACY COITEUX, NICK AKERILL, RPM
7 NORTHWEST, and others downloaded and caused to be downloaded tuning software
8 onto cell phones or computers. The software was then used to modify, tamper with, and 9 render inaccurate, the vehicles' OBDs in a manner that allowed the vehicles to function
10 while emitting pollutants exceeding EPA limits, without the vehicles being shut down or 11 forced into "limp mode."

12 19. SEAN COITEUX, TRACY COITEUX, NICK AKERILL, RPM
13 NORTHWEST, and others collected fees from customers totaling over $500,000 for 14 performing unlawful deletes and tunes on diesel trucks performed between about January
15 1, 2018 and about January 20, 2021.

16 F. Overt Acts

17 20. In furtherance of the conspiracy, and to accomplish one or more of its
18 objects, SEAN COITEUX, TRACY COITEUX, NICK AKERILL, RACING
19 PERFORMANCE MAINTENANCE NORTHWEST, LLC, RPM MOTORS & SALES
20 LLC and others known and unknown to the grand jury, undertook, and caused to be 21 undertaken, one or more of the following overt acts, which are representative of
